India has influenced world powers and is maintaining a strategic relation with many leading countries of the world. As a member of international solar alliance, India will build solar technology capacity. With more use of renewal energy India is transforming as New India and solving environment related issues. Mr. Amol Kumar, Research Scholar, SSS, CUG delivering his speech

2nd Prize Winner, Lav Kumar, Ph.D. scholar, Centre for Diaspora Studies, CUG said, I am a citizen of a country where there was a king like Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj and and Emperor Ashoka the Great. I am a citizen of a country where food, dress and appearance change in every 50 mills. I am a citizen of a country where there used to be a golden bird sitting on every branch of the tree. I am a citizen of that country, which did not consider its geographical border and identity but Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam.

Mr. Lav Kumar, Research Scholar, CDS, CUG, delivering his speech

Today, the India we are talking about making a new one, this is the same India whose prosperity of Sindhu Valley Civilization was spread till Egypt and Mesopotamia. That India whose export and craftsmanship used to be discussed in the Silk Route. Let us bring the value and prosperity of the same India to New India today under the visionary leadership of PM Modi ji. New India, where we build a nation that has innovation, hard-work and creativity. A nation that is free from terrorism, poverty, illiteracy and corruption. New India, where there should be space to talk about unity, integrity, and brotherhood.

Honorable Prime Minister Narendra Modi ji has made each and every possible area's policy in the making of New India and has also brought them down to the ground level. Whether it is the field of security, entrepreneurship, or self-reliant India the youth of India has played their role in every field.

Mahatma Gandhiji had also seen the dream of open defecation free India, but it is Honorable PM Narendra Modi ji who has done the work of making that dream come true in New India. This is the time not only for social awakening but also for self-awareness, where the youth of India is ready to contribute actively to the construction of New India, building of their society and country.

3rd Prize winner, Avinash Upadhyay, Ph.D. Research Scholar, Centre for Diaspora Studies Central University of Gujarat reiterated the speed with which India has progressed under the leadership of our country's most loving Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi ji is amazing. It is important to understand here that what is the basis of this progress? How has the leadership capability of Modi ji touched the zenith in building this New India? Is there anything new in this India, and if it is then what is that?

The answer to all these questions is the 20 years of Modi's political life, the meaning of politics and the vision of an advanced India that is helpful in building India.

Modi ji, who has been on the post of Prime Minister of India since 2014, applied the experience learned from his past experience as Chief Minister of Gujarat since 2001, in the Navnirman of India, which proved to be a step forward in the all-round development of the country. It has brought India on the world stage and put it in the front line.

The Prime Minister has repeated many times about the creation of a New India, there is a uniqueness, a sense of harmony, patriotism, world fraternity, and socio-economic development. For example, we all had heard the name of 'Yoga', but Modi ji established it on the world stage and at the same time tried to establish a natural value like yoga in every Indian household to stay healthy. In this New India, there is the value of Swaraj and Sarvodaya which has blessed India with initiatives like Ujjwala Yojana, Skill India etc. This New India has given the right pace to the fast-growing youth by implementing National Education Policy (NEP 2020), new health policy, etc. And above all the mission of Antyodaya is reflected with success of India having its inclusive growth in all spheres.

Mr. Avinash Upadhyay, Research Scholar, CDS, CUG delivering his speech

We Indians have found the zeal and passion to build ourselves to become a self-reliant India, and this New India will guide the coming generation moving in the frontline on sustainable development and will be an inspiration for the whole world.

Section 2 deals with the political impact of Modiji. One of India's foremost authors, Amish Tripathi, writes on the cultural revival under Modiji. Who could be a better person than Home Minister Amit Shah to take us through the political journey of BJP under Modi? And so, he does as he provides a fascinating account through his writing. The last chapter in this section is by Pradeep Gupta, one of India's most reliable psephologist, who tells us through numbers and data how Modiji has forever changed the way elections are contested in India.

Section 3 is on the economic policy of Modi ji. India's Chief Economic Advisor Anantha Nageswaran discusses the unique ability of Modi ji to think big and then execute it at that scale. Prof. Arvind Panagariya, among India's most respected economists, deep dives into the process of economic reforms under Modiji's leadership and the way they have been executed. Dr. Shamika Ravi, a distinguished economist and author, brings data analysis skill to bear in the chapter on microeconomics and how Modiji empowers the poor. Uday S. Kotak, India's leading banker, writes the last Chapter in this section which deals with the philosophy of respecting and encouraging wealth creators.

Section 4 is about a new paradigm of governance brought about by Modiji. Ajay Mathur from the International Solar Alliance explores the frictionless interplay between development and environment protection that has been the hallmark of Modiji's tenure. Anupam Kher builds a persuasive case of why Modiji, contrary to conventional wisdom of not trusting a politician, is the most trusted man in time of crises. India's foremost agricultural scientist, Professor Ashok Gulati, writes on the management of farm sector. Dr. Devi Shetty, India's leading medical professional analyses the governance response on managing the COVID-19 pandemic. Nandan Nilekani, a pioneering technical mind, brings in his own personal anecdotes to tell us how Modi ji integrated technology into day-to-day governance and made it an indelible tool of governance. There could be no one better than Nripendra Mishra, Principal Secretary to Modiji in his first term, to explain the dynamics of what goes into the framed execution abilities of Modiji. The spiritual master Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev, who understands the mechanisms of mass movements and when, how and why they work has beautifully explained the processes of mass movements as force multipliers in governance. The beautifully narrated story in the chapter 'Winds of Change', mirrors the changes that happened in Modiji's years, could only have been written by one of India's most loved and prolific writers, Sudha Murty.

Section 5 is about how India deals with the rest of the world under Modiji. National Security Advisor Ajit Doval brings in his first-hand experience of dealing with national security matters under Modiji in this first of its kind chapter, rich in detail and conceptual expense. Manoj Ladwa from Britain and Bharat Barai from the United States, two people who have personally known Modiji for almost three decades, narrate through personal anecdotes the method behind the unique diaspora strength that Modiji has been able to muster. Finally, India's External Affairs Minister, Dr. S. Jaishankar, lays out the foreign policy of Modiji as it has panned out since 2014 and future vision about India's place in the community of nations.

Narendra bhai stands out because people trust him. People know that, however hard the challenge is, he will work with the best intent and resolve it. Such trust, in the intent and action, differentiates a leader from the rest. I have no hesitation in saying that in every part of the country, people think of him as a family member who talks about issues that are relatable. (Foreword, Pg. X)

- P.V. Sindhu

‘The Difference between Modi and other Prime Ministers has been that the theory has been put into effective practice. This may be the most important factor behind Modi’s extra ordinary political success.’ (pp.30)

- Surjit S. Bhalla, Executive Director, IMF for India, Bangladesh, Bhutan and Sri Lanka

‘The upshot was an inspirational explosion, a mandate of a billion aspirations, and a cry from the soul for ‘Abki baar, Modi Sarkaar’. Constituencies, groups, communities, families and individuals who had never previously voted for the BJP turned up at polling stations with a spring in their step and hope in their hearts. Together they gave India a fresh start. (pp.74) Narendra Modi is now the template for what it means and what it takes to be a national leader.’ (pp.78)

- Amit Shah

‘It is perhaps one of the most remarkable aspects of Narendra bhai as a leader that he understands his role in history as keenly as he is able to perceive the direction of the tide. As a statesman, he is acutely conscious of the fact that in our new avatar as a democracy, the role of the common citizen and the power of Collective Will are the primary aspects that will shape the future of this nation.’ (pp.292-293)

- Sadguru

‘Prime Minister Narendra Modi’s commitment to nation-building, an abiding belief in India’s inherent potential and a unique leadership style have played important roles in framing strong and effective national security policies. A political leader with a vision of the future and down-to-earth experience of public service and governance, he has three traits that distinguish him from most others who occupied his exalted position. His capacity for hard work, penchant for details and fast comprehension of complex issues are extraordinary features of his leadership style.’ (pp.317)

- Ajit Doval, K.C.

Under Narendra Modi, we have witnessed the unfolding of a different approach to world affairs. It evolves around changing the thinking of the world about India. Entrenched prejudices and vested interests may be deep; but they are being contested vigorously through policies and actions. An important aspect is to ensure that our capabilities and contribution receive greater recognition.’ (pp. 367)
